Council Doings

The City Council had a meeting Monday evening to open and pass upon the bids submitted for the Church Street sidewalk. The bid of Ole Johnson for building the walk, at 79c per linear foot, was accepted and contract ordered drawn up.

The regular monthly meeting for May will be held this evening at the Town Hall. The committee appointed to draw up specifications for the proposed enlargement of the school building are scheduled to submit their work to-night.

Our City Fathers are yet out gunning for a Town Treasurer.

A. P. A. Cannery Ship Arrives

The four-master cannery ship, Star of Greenland, in tow of the tug Chilkat arrived Tuesday afternoon and tied up for the season at the cannery wharf after a voyage of eighteen days from San Francisco.

Fishermen Meet Adjust Prices

Stikine River fishermen hold meeting. Price adjusted.

Reds Advanced 25 per cent

On Monday evening the Stikine River Fishermen held a meeting at the rink and adopted the following resolutions:-

Whereas, both fishermen and fish buyers on Taku Inlet have reached an agreement as to the price for the coming season, and

Whereas, it is more businesslike and more satisfactory that an understanding be reached as to the price to be paid for fish before the fishing season commences.

Therefore be it resolved by the Stikine River Fishermen, That the price be as follows:-

Red king salmon 4 1-2c per pound; White king salmon 1 1-2c per pound.

Be it further resolved that in case buyers desire to pay by the piece the following be the schedule:-

Red kings weighing over 15 pounds $1.00; under 15 pounds 50c. White king salmon 35c each.

And be it further resolved that a committee be appointed to notify the buyers and report if further action be necessary.

The resolutions were presented by the committee to E. H. Joseph, Manager of the Columbia and Northern Fishing and Packing Company, who agreed to the price on king salmon but offered only 25c each for whites. The committee reported at another meeting Tuesday and it was voted to accept the price of 25c for whites.

The result of the meeting is a raise in the price of reds of 20c or an increase of 25 per cent of last years price.

Duckland Takes Hunters up River

Another party of big game hunters got away for the Stikine and Iskut rivers Wednesday on the Duckland. F. and R. Coykendall and C. Little accompanied by T. H. Cunningham, Clifford McKay, Geo. Klauke and Benjamin Thomas, of Wrangell. A division of the party will be made at the boundary, part going up the Iskut and part going on up the Stikine as far as the Duckland can go.

H. Gantley accompanied Capt. Johansen on the trip.

Alameda Rams Seattle Dock

The Alameda, through wrong or mistaken signal, jammed full speed into the Colman dock injuring several people who were in the waiting room and sinking the steamer Telegraph on which part of the dock fell.

St. Philip's Church

"Toward all Men" will be the theme of the discussion at St. Philip's Church Sunday evening, May 5th. The address will be illustrated by reference to the lives of men who have been powers in the making of history.

The Firemen added another quick "put out" to the season's record by drowning a small blaze that broke out on the roof of Andrew Oscher's House early this morning. A similar blaze was similarly treated on Oscher's house last February.

Home Rule For Alaskans

Territorial government practically assured for Alaska

Equal Rights For Women

After eloquent pleas by Congressman Sulzer and Delegate Wickersham, the House of Representatives unanimously passed the Alaska Home Rule Bill providing Alaska a territorial form of government. This practically ends Alaska's long struggle for Home Rule as the senate is expected to fall in line and ratify the measure. No opposition from the White House is anticipated.

The bill provides for a legislative body of sixteen representatives, four from each judicial district, and eight senators; two from each district, to meet at Juneau on the second Monday in January of each year, the convention not to exceed sixty days in any two years. The compensation of the senators and representatives is to be fifteen dollars per day and a mileage allowance.

Native School Closed

The government school for natives finished another year Tuesday. Mrs. Ida M. Pusey, who has been in charge, will not accept the school again and though her successor probably been named, no announcement has been made.

Mrs. Pusey left this morning on the Humboldt and will visit her home in Winfield, Iowa before starting on her contemplated tour of Europe, Egypt and the Holy Land.

I. C. Commission Has Jurisdiction

The Supreme Court reached a decision Monday in the Humboldt case and declares that the jurisdiction of the Interstate Commerce Commission extends over the District of Alaska.

The Better Way.

"Positively the worst struggle I ever had in the water," said a young man who had been at sea, "was one night trying to save a man with a wooden leg."

"Man," said an old Scotchman who was quietly listening, "if ye had got a bit of rope ye could have saved the man quicker wi' it than ye could dae wi' ten widdened legs."

LITTLE PUSHES.

The world's progress is caused not only by the mighty pushes of its heroes, but also by the aggregate of the tiny pushes of each honest worker, and every man who refuses to push because his effort would be so small is making a foolish mistake.

Not a Transient.

Hubbubs—So you don't agree that the age of miracles is past, eh? Subbubs—Not on your life! There's a man out my way who has had the same cook for nearly a year.—Philadelphia Record.

Between Doctors.

"What did you talk about at the last medical meeting?"
"Nitrates."
"Well, they ought to be higher. It's worth something to leave a warm bed."
—Washington Herald.

No Market.

"Time is money," quoted the wise guy.
"Possibly," replied the simple mug. "But it isn't always an easy matter to effect the exchange." — Philadelphia Record.

Pick Ups

The infant republic of China thinks it can stand a loan.

If it costs $100,000 to get a senator like Lorimer, how much would it take to get a good one?

As the father of waters the Mississippi is setting a bad example.

The short ballot is an admirable reform but what the country really wants is a short campaign speech.

"Fiddling Bob" Taylor, of Tennessee, said the finest example he knew of the negro's use of the English language was the remark of an old negro to his worthless son who was accused of stealing from the sutler. The old man asked the boy if he was the one who did it.

"I ain't sayin I ain't" the boy replied.

"Now yy-yo-you 'Rastus,'" stormed the old man, "I ain't axin' you is you ain't; I's axin' you ain't you is."

The Roman Legion.
Ten cohorts of 600 men each, with a wing of 300 cavalry, was the ordinary composition of a Roman legion.

Robin Redbreast.
Four totally different birds in as many countries are known by the name of "robin redbreast."

Not as it Sounded.
Used as he was to scenes of turbulence, no doubt even the conductor would have been shocked had he not been right on the spot to see what occasioned the shrill outcry. He called out "Eighty-ninth street!" and immediately a startled voice rang out: "Oh, wait a minute, till I get my clothes off!"
Everybody stood up and craned necks over their neighbors' shoulders. What they saw was a laundress tugging at a clothes basket which had got wedged in the doorway.—New York Press.

Haste to Reimburse.
While carrying a ladder through the crowded streets of Philadelphia the other day a big Irishman was so unfortunate as to break a plate glass window in a shop. Immediately dropping his ladder, the Celt broke into a run. But he had been seen by the shopkeeper, who dashed after him and caught him by the collar.
"See here!" angrily exclaimed the shopkeeper when he had regained his breath, "you have broken my window!"
"Sure I have," assented the Celt, "and didn't you see me running home to get the money to pay for it?"—New York Herald.

"Mad as a Hatter."

What is the derivation of the phrase "Mad as a hatter?" One explanation is that it was originally French, "As mad as an oyster" (huître), that bivalve being supposed to be extremely unintellectual. Another theory is that the phrase had reference to Collins, the English poet, author of the "Ode to the Passions." He was a hatter at Chichester, and it has been said that the lunatics with whom he was confined at one time called him "the hatter" and that the phrase originated thus.

A SAFE ROAD.

The two parallel rails upon which life is sure to run safely and far afield faithfulness and sincerity. No one who runs his life on them ever gets off the track or finds any freight too heavy to pull, no matter how steep the grade or how great the storm.

Etiquette.

Frederick Townsend Martin at a dinner in New York criticised American manners.

"Kipling," he said, "declares that a gentleman has manner, while a would be gentleman has manners. We should remember that. We lay too much stress on such details as taking off our hats when we go up in the elevator with a scrubwoman."

"In fact, in everything we seem to search too uneasily for the correct, the modish course. A society editor told me the other day that he had just got a letter from a young woman that ran:

"Dear Editor—Please state who should keep up the installments on the ring when the engagement is broken off."

England's First Snuff.

Snuff taking was practically unknown in England until 1702. In that year Sir George Rooke burnt the French and Spanish shipping anchored in the port of Vigo and sacked the town. Besides large quantities of bullion and jewels, his booty included fifty tons of the finest snuff, which was brought to England and thrown on the market at a very low price. This novel form of taking tobacco rapidly caught on, and in a few years the snuffbox had to a large extent ousted the pipe. Connoisseurs used to accumulate special blends of snuff as nowadays they hoard choice cigars. When George IV. died the contents of his snuff cellar were sold for $2,000.—London Globe.

A Chinese Ruse.

Over 2,000 years ago there was a war between China and Mongolia, and China was invaded by a Mongolian army under Mao-tun. The Chinese emperor was besieged in the city of Ping, and when the situation seemed to be hopeless he ordered that a number of lay figures representing beautiful women be made and exposed on the city walls. He then caused a message to be sent to the wife of the Mongolian leader to the effect that these attractive maidens were intended as a present to her husband. The ruse was entirely successful. The siege was raised forthwith and Mao-tun was removed out of the temptation zone by his apprehensive spouse.

Great Guns of Old.

We are accustomed to think of large cannon as a very recent invention. Yet as long ago as 1543 a certain Ralph Hogg of Buckstead, in Sussex, cast large guns, and a pupil of his, Thomas Johnson, in 1595 made for the Earl of Cumberland "forty-two cast pieces of great ordnance of iron." These weighed 6,000 pounds—three tons—apiece and, we are told, showed very fine, smooth workmanship. All the smelting was done with charcoal, of which it took three tons to smelt each ton of iron. Also all the ore was carted from the mine on pack horses, which took a load of about 300 pounds each. The immense amount of labor and expense may be imagined.—London Graphic.

The Original Fruit Canners.

We are indebted to Pompeii for the great industry of canned fruit. Years ago, when the excavations were just beginning, a party of Cincinnatians found in what had been the pantry of a house many jars of preserved figs. One was opened, and they were found to be fresh and good. Investigation showed that the figs had been put into jars in a heated state, an aperture left for the steam to escape and then sealed with wax. The hint was taken and the next year fruit canning was introduced into the United States, the process being identical with that in vogue at Pompeii twenty centuries ago.—Exchange.

BE CHEERFUL.

Tribulation is a habit. Be brave and utter a cheerful word in place of the complaining one. Keeping silent in an atmosphere of discord attracts to you peace and serenity instead of pain and sorrow. "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he." No greater truth was ever uttered: As soon as a person stops thinking trouble and goes to thinking joy then joy will materialize.
